New Suits
New Waists

There are many good points about our stock of Millinery and Wearing Apparel. The five principle ones are these: The styles of our Hats and Outer Garments are always the latest and most approved. The finish is the finest and most elegant—the shape is always correct and to the minute—long wear is assured by the excellence of the materials they are made of—and the price is always right. Drop in to see us often; we keep our stock right up-to-date by continually adding the new things as they appear. Our Ready-to-Wear Garments

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Nearly a century has rolled by since Methodism ventured into Southern Illinois, or as it was then known, the Indiana Territory. Originally part of the great Northwest Territory defined and created by ordinance of 1787 of the Continental Congress, and containing what are now Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, then set off with Indiana as the Indiana Territory. Illinois did not gain a separate territorial government until 1809. Three years previous to that event namely in 1806, a mission of the Methodist church was established near Edwardsville, by the Rev. Mr. Young. Thirteen years later, in 1819, a Sabbath school was begun in Upper Alton and now claims the distinction of being the oldest continuous Sabbath school in Illinois. A Methodist station was established in Lower Alton in 1829 and appointments were made from 1833. In a few years another society was organized, in Middletown or "Middleton," as it was then written.

The early meetings of the station in Lower Alton were held in a building called Lyceum Hall on Market street. Afterward, a frame building which stood on the corner of Third and Alby streets, the present site of the Unitarian parsonage was purchased from the Baptist society, then about to move to a new church edifice. This structure was bought for $8,000.00 by Mr. Wm. G. Pinckard and Mr. Hogan, whose intention was to present it to the society. But the financial depression beginning 1837, seriously hampered these gentlemen so that they were unable to pay for the property, and at Mr. Hogan's suggestion, trustees were elected, money was raised in the east to the amount of $750.00, but both money and building were finally lost in about 1841.

No attempt to secure a church home was made until a year later, when a public meeting of the society was called and steps were taken to obtain a place of worship. The committee appointed having selected a lot on the corner of Fourth and Beall streets (now known as Belle street), were very much surprised when the owner, Mr. J. T. Hudson, presented them with a lot without cost. Thus encouraged they succeeded in building a brick church, and afterwards a parsonage on the lot adjoining on the east. The church then stood on the northeast corner of Fourth and Belle streets.

When on Wednesday evening, April 15th, 1857, a fire destroyed the planing mill owned by Messrs. Beall, Parks, Morrison, and McDowell, the whole block was involved including the Methodist church and parsonage.

Again deprived of a church home, they set to work once more and in 1858 erected the structure recently destroyed on Sixth and Market streets, and where now stands the present beautiful edifice just completed in 1905.

For some time, in the early days, all three stations, Upper, Middle, and Lower Alton were served by one pastor. A union was proposed between Middle and Lower Alton stations in 1841 but was rejected by the Middletown society. Their church building was located near the northeast corner of Common and Franklin streets, just where the car track

OUR UNIQUE DISTINCTION

The Distinction is This: Even those who are not our regular patrons are imbued with the idea that when drugs come from this store they are of highest possible quality; that buying here affords positive security. A community is not pervaded by such a sentiment by chance. There is and always has been a basis for it. Better remember this when you have a prescription to be filled.

ternoon.

"Der Hansfreund," a monthly paper, has been published in the interest of the congregation for the past 18 years.

The beginning of the Methodist Mission among the Germans of Alton and vicinity dates back to the fall of 1845, when Rev. Louis Kunz, of Highland, Ill., visited this place.

The first meeting for Germans
was held in the First English
M. E. Church, after which the society was organized. In 1852 Rev.
Jacob Miller, whose son now lives in Edwardsville, Ill., put forth every effort to secure a home for the little flock. The following year the First German Methodist Church was dedicated. A little church had been erected near Third and Walnut street, at a cost of about $800.

This building is still standing,
but has long since been converted into a dwelling.

Soon the little church was too small and larger quarters were looked for.

The Middletown M. E. Church on Union street, was for sale, and Rev.
J. Miller, who was then again pastor of the German church, arranged for the transfer of that church to his congregation in September or October, 1862. On Easter morning, April 11, 1880, the Union street church was destroyed by fire and the flock again was homeless and depressed, but not discouraged.

Rev. J. H. Hilmes, the energetic pastor of the church, and a faithful committee at once set to work to build a new church on the lots previously secured, at the corner of Seventh and Henry streets. The new church was dedicated November 14, 1880.

The past twenty-five years we have been permitted to worship in this house. The property has a probable value of $15,000.

Sunday School.

The Sunday school was organized January 8, 1854, and has since been a great source of blessing.
Carl Skaer, the genial superintendent and a corps of efficient teachers, are keeping the school up to date.

Ladies' Aid Society.

For over twenty-five years the ladies of the church have been organized for faithful service to the church and the Master. They have indeed proven themselves an Aid Society to the church.

Epworth League.

Since 1891 the Epworth League
has been a help to the church, especially to the younger members.
The educational and social features are a benefit to all, and of course the religious portion of the work also.

Upper Alton M. E. Church.

Methodism of Upper Alton is so closely related to early Methodism of the Western Conference, and of the state, that our people are justly proud of the distinction.

This feeling is intensified, when we know that in our first church building Rev. Peter Cartwright often preached and held quarterly conferences, and that on the same spot a session of the Illinois conference was held in 1838 with Bishop Joshua Soule in the chair.

The first Methodist class was organized in Upper Alton in 1817.

This is the record of members. Ebenezer Hodges, Mary Hodges, Jonathan Brown, Delilah Brown, Oliver Brown and John Seeley.

The first services for the society were held in the small house of Ebenezer Hodges, which stood near where the First Baptist church now is.

It is not known who was the first pastor but it is supposed that the Rev. John Dew, a local preacher, served the class for a time.

The first regular pastor was the Rev. Samuel H. Thompson who served from 1818 to 1820.

Next in order comes the following names as pastors:

1820—Alexander McAllister.
1821—James Scott.
1822—Jesse Hale.
1823-24—John Dew.
1825—Ebenezer T. Webster.
1826-27—Samuel H. Thompson.
1828—Wm. Chambers.
1829—John Dew.
1830—Stith M. Ottwell.
1831—John Dew.
1832—Asabel Phelps.
1833—James Hadley.
1834—Barton Randle.
1835—A. L. Risley.

In this year and possibly by the Rev. Barton Randle the first church building was erected, it was a frame structure and stood across the street from where the present building is located, the residence of Mr. H. Clay White is on the site of the first church, this building was used until 1849.

1836—Simon Peter and Wm. Mitchell were pastors.

1837—J. Benson and Norman Allyn.

1838—McMurray.

1839-40—William L. Deneen and Daniel Fairbanks.

1841—Morris Hobart.

1842—J. Bastian and C. J. Houts.

1843—John Hatton.

1844—John Mather.

1845—John Buorland.

1846—L. Dwight.

1847-48—Thomas Magee. Under this pastorate the present brick building was erected, only a very few of the members then are here now. Mr. M. A. Lowe, gave half of the brick for the building and is yet alive. Bro. Troy Moore, a strong supporter then, and a regular attendant now upon the appointed means of grace and others though the number is small, are here yet, with their prayers and tears for the church they love.

1849—L. C. Pitner.

1850—C. M. Holiday.

1851—B. C. Wood.

1852—J. A. Robinson.

1853—J. S. Estep.

Washington Street M. E. Church.

Washington M. E. Church had its beginning in a mission Sunday school worked up by Mrs. Ed. Levis and organized by Dev. G. W. Waggoner and Mr. H. H. Hayes, August 2, 1891.

The Sunday school rented and held its services in a little one-story,
three-room brick dwelling, situated on the northeast corner of Bozza and Washington streets.

Within a short time the quarters were too small, and Mrs. Ed. Levis, with her zeal and faith equal to the occasion, set to work to raise funds for a new building. The Illinois Glass Company donated the lot,
where the chapel now stands. Mr.
Ed. Levis, Jr., gave the rock and hauling, and with the aid of many others the building was completed in the fall of 1894.

In November, 1896, Rev. J. W. Able took charge of the mission as pastor on the promise that Mrs. Levis would board him and that he should have the free-will offerings as his salary. That year he held a revival meeting resulting in over fifty conversions, after which he organized an independent society, calling it
the Washington Street M. E. Church.

The following have served as pastors: Rev. J. W. Able, four years, and Rev. J. T. Carson six months.
Rev. C. Harmon succeeded him, and during his pastorate the remaining debt was paid and the church was dedicated September 25, 1901, by Dr. J. T. Harmon. Rev. J. H. Borah,
three months, followed by Rev. C.
Harmon, who served another six months and was succeeded by Rev.
C. L. Peterson June 13, 1902, under whose administration the new church on Washington street was erected.

The lot of 100 feet frontage, valued at $2,500, was donated by Mr. Ed.
Levis. The building cost $8,000. It was dedicated July 30, 1905, by Dr.

J. T. Harmon.

The church has a membership of 77 and a Sunday school enrollment of 150. Rev. Charles W. Koehler is the pastor.
